Hero Shots

Fintech Circle has the opportunity to assert ownership over exclusive content through combining photography and the Fintech Circle illustrations.

The brand can use “hero shots” to introduce personalities or launch products. Consistent use of this particular visual language reinforces brand recognition and community building.

“Heroes” are always cut-out images and placed in front of Fintech Circle illustrations.

The illustrations are there to communicate brand equity. They behave as background accents.

Headlines or titles are paired with the “heroes.”

The Fintech Circle logo should always appear in the bottom left corner of the graphic.
